- education and employment details

We also process sensitive classes of information that may include:

- physical or mental health details
- racial or ethnic origin
- religious or other beliefs
- trade union membership

Who the information is processed about

We process personal information about:

- customers
- suppliers
- professional experts and consultants
- enquirers
- employees

Who the information may be shared with

We sometimes need to share the personal information we process with the individual themselves and also with other organisations. Where this is necessary we are required to comply with all aspects of the Data Protection Act (DPA). What follows is a description of the types of organisations we may need to share some of the personal information we process with for one or more reasons.

Where necessary or required we share information with:

- business associates and professional advisers
- family, associates and representatives of the person whose personal data we are processing
- current, past or prospective employers
- educators and examining bodies
- financial organisations

- employment and recruitment agencies
- central government
- credit reference agencies
- debt collection agencies
- traders in personal data
- suppliers

Transfers

It may sometimes be necessary to transfer personal information overseas. When this is needed information is only shared within the European Economic Area (EEA). Any transfers made will be in full compliance with all aspects of the data protection act.
